The Lever Wall Mixing Set has a unique above bench exposed design. It will assist a disabled or elderly individual with turning the tap on and off. With the long lever handles, in place of your standard twisting knobs or taps, they are much easier to operate. There is no need to worry about undoing a tight knob, or wondering if you have turned the tap off tightly enough. You will not have to worry if your hands are aching, as you do not need to form a grip to use these taps. Just a simple nudge using any part of your hand will be enough to turn the taps on and off. With one for hot, and one for cold, it is easy to identify which temperature you are operating. Both Taps have larger red and blue discs clearly visible on the top of the tap. This feature can be useful for dementia sufferers or those with vision problems.

This Lever Wall Mixing Set works with either a bath, above basin, a kitchen or laundry sink or even a medical hand wash station. It has a beautiful gooseneck spout making this an all round stylish retro above bench design.
